Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 12 October 2004.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chuah et al. (US 6,587,672).

As to Claim 6, with respect to Figures 1 and 3-7, Chuah teaches a radio mobile telecommunications system comprises a base transceiver station arranged to manage a plurality of mobile systems within at least one telecommunications cell (Col. 6, lines 54-56);

the base transceiver station having means to provide an acquisition indication channel by which a first acknowledgement signal is sent to indicate that the strength of the preamble signals of increasing strength sent by a mobile system to the base transceiver station has reached a predetermined acceptable level (Figure 6A);

characterized in that said first acknowledgement signal is arranged to indicate in addition that the mobile system must not send a message signal but must send a further preamble at the same acceptable strength level (Figure 7 and Col. 8, lines 20-27); and the base transceiver station having means to send a further acknowledgement signal in response to the further preamble indicating that the mobile system is permitted to send the message signal (Figure 8b, label 106).

As to Claim 7, with respect to Figures 1 and 3-7, Chuah teaches a method of operating a radio base transceiver station comprising:

sending a preamble acknowledgement signal on an acquisition indication channel when a preamble reaches an acceptable strength wherein the preamble acknowledgement signal further indicates that the mobile system is not permitted to send its message signal, but must send a further preamble at the same acceptable strength level (Figure 8C);

receiving said further preamble from the mobile station (Figure 7 and Col. 8, lines 20-27); sending a preamble acknowledgement signal of a second type indicating that the mobile station is permitted to send its message signal (Figure 8B); and receiving the message signal from the mobile station (Figure 7 and Col. 8, lines 20-27).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed in the 10/12/04 Remarks have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because of the following:

Chuah teaches sending request signals (preambles) with the same signal strength (Col. 8, lines 20-27). This teaching is the same as that argued by Applicants and taught in the disclosure at Page 5. However, Chuah does not teach that resources are unavailable as argued but not claimed. Examiner respectfully invites Applicants to contact Examiner to discuss possible amendments for overcoming the prior art of record.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Komatsu (US 5,794,129) teaches receiving mobile station transmitted signals and determining the raising or lowering of the power.

Kanai (US 5,386,589) teaches keeping signal quality constant in a mobile communication network.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

6. Any response to this final action should be mailed to:
